

16th Annual Occoquan River Cleanup on September 27

On September 27, 9:00am-noon, volunteers in kayaks, canoes and jon boats will be accessing the river from multiple sites to retrieve trash from the shoreline. Annual cleanup is organized by the Prince William Trails and Streams Coalition.

Volunteers are also needed to cleanup sites on land, within the watershed. Prince William Soil & Water Conservation District will identify stormwater facilities for the land cleanup.

During the 2024 cleanup, over 80 volunteers on both water and land collected nearly 4,000 pounds of trash, putting in over 320 hours of volunteer time.

October 4: Potomac Shores Fall Run

This year the Po Sho Trails Committee will offer the standard 5K route. Once again there is an offer of a 10K route as well - provided there are enough interested participants. Register online.

Both routes will start at the Fitness Barn at the same time and will proceed on the same route; then the routes will split at a certain point and end at the Fitness Barn parking lot.

Trails and Railroads

CSX has identified its requirements for new trails alongside or across railroad tracks in its Public Projects guidance:

- no public trails within CSX right-of-way or on CSX access roads
- no new at-grade trail crossings outside an existing highway easement
- a general 50-foot setback for publicly accessible trails/parks from active tracks
- grade-separated crossings (over/under) are preferred and, if considered, must meet strict fencing, canopy (see above), clearance, and maintenance requirements borne by the local sponsor

Trails Status Report

After Prince William County cancelled the Route 28 Bypass, the City of Manassas modified its Sudley Road Third Lane project where it intersects Godwin Drive.

A curb bump-out to create a future bus-bay (see above) was added at the end of the planned right-hand turn lane from Sudley Road into the bypass. If a trailhead parking lot is created for a future Flat Branch Trail, the new sidewalk will need to be modified.

In Manassas Park, the trails in Blooms Park remain open as Dominion Energy upgrades a transmission line through the old golf course.

In Prince William County, the bridge over Rocky Run on Broad Run Greenway is expected to be installed in October/November. Four bridges on Neabsco Greenway near Andrew Leitch Park are still going through the county's permit review process. A contract to acquire and install those bridges will not be processed until the review is completed.

The segment of the Potomac Heritage National Scenic Trail adjacent to Featherstone National Wildlife Refuge is still under construction. Piles are being driven into the soil to support the boardwalk.

Extending the existing Neabsco Boardwalk south into the Metz Wetland continues to be a procurement challenge. Proposals to date have all exceeded budgeted amount. Department of Parks and Recreation is exploring advertising the project for more competitive bids.

The Powells Creek Crossing, which will provide a route for the Potomac Heritage National Scenic Trail to connect Leesylvania State Park to the north side of Potomac Shores, is moving towards 35% design stage.

Next public meeting regarding Countywide Trails Master Plan will be in October. Public survey is still open for comment. Plan is scheduled for adoption by Board of County Supervisors in January, at the start of the process for the FY27 budget.

For more information regarding county trails, the next Prince William Trails and Blueways Council is September 23, 6:30-8:30pm. The public can attend online as well as in person. For status of specific projects, check the Capital Improvement Program (CIP) dashboard.

Next Quarterly Meeting of Greater Prince William Trails Coalition

At the next Quarterly Meeting we'll discuss, among other topics, the end of six years of major trails planning efforts in Prince William County with completion of the Trails Master Plan. That plan will refine the trail routes identified in 2022 for the 2040 Mobility Chapter.

There will also be conversation regarding various funding strategies to turn the planning from vision into reality. The cities of Manassas and Manassas Park have completed trails planning and are actively implementing their plans.

Quarterly Meeting is on October 23, 10:00-11:30am. Meeting is hybrid - you can attend in-person at GMU's Potomac Science Center (with donuts and coffee) or via Zoom.

Hiking and Cycling in National Parks

In honor of National Public Lands Day on September 27, Prince William Forest Park will offer free admission to everyone. There are 37 miles of hiking trails and 20 miles of cycling paths in the park.

Manassas Battlefield National Park offers 40 miles of hiking trails. Got a horse? There are 21 miles of equestrian trails. Cycling is not permitted on trails in the park.

In addition, there are segments of the Potomac Heritage National Scenic Trail (PHNST) which are completed and open for hiking and biking. The Second Sunday Hike on September 14 explored potential routes of the PHNST around Locust Shade Park and the National Museum of the Marine Corps.

And in Other News...
